

Mediapost.com - Judge Green - Lights Class - Action Against City Search (November 18, 2009)

The website Mediapost.com reported that a federal judge has given the go-ahead to a case against Citysearch brought by advertisers unhappy with click fraud stemming from the company's pay-per-click program. Brian Kabateck of Kabateck Brown Kellner LLP represents the marketers in the case and has also represented plaintiffs in similar cases against Google and Yahoo that ultimately settled. "Hopefully, Citysearch will make things right with their customers," Kabateck said.